About Me

I am a MERN Stack Developer with knowledge of MongoDB, Express.js, React.js, and Node.js. I can build full-stack web applications, create APIs, and design user-friendly front-end interfaces. I am comfortable using Git, working in teams, and learning new technologies. I enjoy coding and solving real-world problems through web development.

Experience

- Recipe Website: Built a recipe search website using React and food APIs to display dishes with ingredients, images, and instructions.
- Mini Games: Built interactive browser games like Tic-Tac-Toe, Rock Paper Scissors, and Memory Game using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript.
- ChatGPT Clone: Built a chatbot interface using React, simulating ChatGPT-style interactions with a responsive UI.
- To-Do App: Developed a task management app using React with features like add, delete, and mark as complete.
- Weather App: Fetched real-time weather data using REST API and displayed it using a clean React interface.
- E-commerce Website: Designed a basic shopping website with product listing, cart functionality, and responsive layout.
- Pokémon Info Website: Used Pokémon REST API to display detailed information about various Pokémon characters.
- Country Info Website: Created a country data explorer using REST API, showing population, flag, language, and more.
